In a typical experiment designed to study this aspect of posture the person is instructed...